KATIE KLING MCGILL

Senior Account Manager

Katie has over 11 years of combined experience in the hotel, meetings and events industries. Katie attended Clemson University in South Carolina where she majored in Travel & Tourism Management. She held various hospitality jobs throughout college and eventually landed in Atlanta, Georgia at the Marriott Marquis – Atlanta’s biggest hotel property.

Through her time at the Marriott, she learned how to navigate events both small and large and fell in love with the city of Atlanta. She went on to work at the Atlanta Convention and Visitors Bureau as a Convention Services Manager. She also served on several city-wide committees for some of the worlds largest sporting events, College Football Playoff and even the Superbowl!

Katie joined us at Destination South in summer 2021 and hasn’t looked back since. She has been managing events of all sizes and scopes with that big, signature Katie smile!

Did You Know:

Katie and her new husband recently adopted a second puppy, Pepper – that has been a great companion to Katie’s first love, Truffles!
